DEFENSE LOGISTICS AGENCY OVERVIEW

SCHEDULE:

Defense Electronics Supply Center

The Defense Electronics Supply Center (DESC), Gentile Air Force Station, Dayton, Ohio was realign to the Defense Supply Center Columbus (DSCC), formerly the Defense Construction Supply Center (DCSC), Columbus, Ohio. The bulk of DESC personnel moved to DSCC's Operations Center July 1996. The base officially closed December 31, 1996.

The Operations Center was built with non-BRAC funds and was originally designed to hold DSCC and its tenants. To meet the BRAC space requirement for DESC and the DESC's tenants relocating to DSCC, the BRAC budget includes a Military Construction project to renovate existing operations space in Building 12. However, since the BRAC decision resulted in consolidation of both existing Inventory Control Points (ICPs), a logical decision was made to place the combined ICP personnel into the Operations Center and the tenant population of DESC and DSCC into renovated space. DSCC tenants were displaced from the Operations Center due to the BRAC action. Subsequent downsizing and reorganization of tenants scheduled to locate in Building 12 has made BRAC related renovation unnecessary.

Defense Personnel Support Center

The Defense Personnel Support Center (DPSC), Philadelphia, Pennsylvania will realign to the Navy Inventory Control Point (NAVICP), formerly the Aviation Supply Office (ASO), Philadelphia, Pennsylvania by the fourth quarter FY 1999. Extending closure by 2 years was a result of the BRAC 95 action to disestablish the Defense Industrial Supply Center (DISC) in Philadelphia, PA, and to establish one Inventory Control Point (ICP) to manage both troop and general support items. Due to the disestablishment of DISC in BRAC 95, and as a result of the realignment of the ICPs, the construction projects previously planned have been revised to conform with the new ICP and tenant requirements.

Defense Clothing Factory

Defense Clothing Factory (DCF), Philadelphia, Pennsylvania closed September 1994.

Defense Distribution Depot Oakland

Three facilities comprise the Defense Distribution Depot Oakland, California (DDOC) -- Oakland, Mare Island and Alameda. The Oakland facility was disestablished in June 1995, accelerating closure by two years. Its primary mission relocated to Defense Distribution Depot San Joaquin, California (DDSC). Mare Island closed second quarter FY 1996 and the Alameda facility closed second quarter, FY 1997.

Defense Contract Management Districts

The Defense Contract Management Districts - Mid-Atlantic, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania (DCMDM) and North Central, Chicago, Illinois (DCMDC) were disestablished on 3 July 1994. Their primary missions were realigned to DCMD Northeast, Boston, Massachusetts; DCMD South, Marietta, Georgia; and DCMD West, El Segundo, California.

The Defense Contract Management District West, El Segundo, California (DCMDW) was redirected by BRAC 95. In lieu of relocating to Long Beach Naval Shipyard in Long Beach, CA, the Commission recommended this activity relocate to government property by the most cost-effective method -- to purchase or build administrative space. DCMDW has determined that acquisition and renovation of an existing building, instead of new construction is more economical. The activity will relocate fourth quarter 1998.

The following displays actual costs FY 1994-FY 1996 and the current projected costs:

DEFENSE LOGISTICS AGENCY OVERVIEW

ENVIRONMENTAL CONSIDERATIONS:

Environmental funding requirements for FY 1999 are $.8 million and total $29.7 million for FYs 1994-1999. The general requirements by activity follow.

Defense Personnel Support Center

The Defense Personnel Support Center's environmental costs for FY 1994-1999 are expected to total $21.6 million. An additional $2.2 million of environmental costs beyond the BRAC 93 time frame has been funded in the BRAC 95 account. Environmental projects include site sampling; removal of underground storage tanks; and cleanup of PCB, DDT, and contaminated soil. BRAC funded cleanups began in FY 1994.

While investigation and planning for remediation of free phase hydrocarbon on the aquifer under DPSC continues under terms of a consent agreement, no funds have been budgeted for the remediation of the suspected petroleum contamination underlying DPSC. Requirements are unknown until a final determination and responsibility established as to the origin of the contamination.

Defense Electronics Supply Center

DLA's environmental requirements at the Defense Electronics Supply Center (DESC) for FY 1994-1999 are currently projected at about $8 million. These costs cover various cleanup projects such as coal storage areas, pest control shop, motor pool, radioactive vacuum tube burial site, and ground water monitoring wells.

DEFENSE LOGISTICS AGENCY

ACTIVITY: Defense Electronics Supply Center (DESC), Gentile Air Force Station, Dayton, Ohio

CLOSURE/REALIGNMENT PACKAGE:

The mission of DLA's hardware Supply Centers are to manage and procure consumable spare parts and commodities used by the Military Services and other Federal Agencies. The Centers are all similar in missions, organizations, personnel skills and common automated management systems. The Defense Electronics Supply Center (DESC) managed and sold a wide range of electrical and electronic weapon system spare parts. The Defense Supply Center Columbus (DSCC), formerly the Defense Construction Supply Center (DCSC) in Columbus, Ohio was responsible for procuring and managing spare parts for weapon systems and was the central manager or construction materiel and mechanized handling equipment.

The realignment of DESC with DSCC in Columbus, Ohio allowed complete closure of Gentile Air Force Station, Dayton, Ohio. DESC was the host at Gentile Air Force Station, although the base is owned by the Air Force and permitted to DLA. The tenants were relocated to DSCC or to renovated space at Wright Patterson Air Force Base.

Gentile Air Force Station closed 31 December 1996. The bulk of DESC personnel moved to the Operations Center at DSCC July 1996.

ONE-TIME IMPLEMENTATION COSTS:

Military Construction:

Facilities were required at DSCC to accommodate the realignment action and at Wright Patterson AFB to accommodate DESC tenants who have chosen to remain in the Dayton area.

DEFENSE LOGISTICS AGENCY

Military Construction (Cont'd):

A conjunctively-funded maintenance and repair project was accomplished during FY 1995 to accommodate the Contract Field Team at Wright Patterson AFB. It provided office space for 24 Contract Field Team personnel who receive their support from DCMAO Dayton. These personnel were not included in the original decision to relocate the DCMAO, but they were moved to capture the efficiencies and savings associated with shared support services.

Family Housing Construction/Operations:

There was no family housing construction or operations requirements associated with this base closure action.

Operations and Maintenance:

Personnel costs included Permanent Change of Station (PCS) requirements; Voluntary Separation Incentive Pay (VSIP); Voluntary Early Retirement Authority (VERA); Reduction-in-Force (RIF) costs, including Severance Pay and Unemployment Compensation; and lump-sum annual leave payments. No labor requirements are budgeted for FY 1999.

Nonlabor costs include transportation and freight, communication, and tenant costs. No nonlabor requirements are budgeted for this activity for FY 1999.

Procurement Items:

There are no items included which would be funded from the Procurement Appropriations.

Revenues from Land Sales:

As a Defense Agency, DLA does not own property. Therefore, no revenue from land sales can be realized.

Environmental:

DLA's environmental requirements at DESC for FY 1994-1999 are currently projected at approximately $8 million. These costs cover various cleanup projects such as coal storage areas, pest control shop, motor pool, radioactive vacuum tube burial site, and ground water monitoring wells. Minimal funds remain for DESC environmental requirements for FY 1999.

SAVINGS:

Military Construction:

Two projects scheduled for construction at DESC have been canceled as follows:

Project Title	Fiscal Year	Amount ($000)
Fire and Security Station	1992	2,000
Install Gas-Fired Boilers	1994	6,000

Family Housing:

DESC saved about $75 thousand over three years (FY 1997-1999) in operations costs due to closure of one general officer's quarters on base.

Operation and Maintenance:

Savings were generated from the reduction of a total of 486 personnel by FY 1997. This was an additional 191 personnel savings over the COBRA estimate due to reduced Federal Supply Class (FSC) item management requirements. Nonlabor savings was attributable to reduced base operations support and real property maintenance.

Military Personnel:

Savings were generated from the elimination of 4 officer billets at DESC by FY 1997. Even though these were Military Service billets, as a Defense Working Capital Fund (DWCF) activity, DLA/DESC costs are reduced by the amount of Military Personnel costs reduced from our DWCF rates.

DEFENSE LOGISTICS AGENCY

ACTIVITY: Defense Personnel Support Center (DPSC), Philadelphia, PA

CLOSURE/REALIGNMENT PACKAGE:

The Defense Personnel Support Center (DPSC) is responsible for the world-wide management of basic troop support necessities - food, clothing, and medical supplies. The Center separates its support into these three major functions. All of the functions will be relocating to the Navy Inventory Control Point (NAVICP), formerly the Aviation Supply Office (ASO) in north Philadelphia, PA.

The Defense Clothing Factory, located on the same installation as DPSC, was closed 30 September 1994. The Defense Contract Management District, Mid-Atlantic (DCMDM), also located on the same installation, was disestablished on 3 July 1994. Costs and savings associated with these closures are covered separately. However, there is some impact to DPSC as a result of these closures. DPSC support personnel provided support to these organizations. Some of the environmental costs funded within DPSC are related to cleanup of the Defense Clothing Factory.

DPSC will relocate to the NAVICP by the fourth quarter, FY 1999. Extending closure by 2 years was a result of the BRAC 95 action to disestablish the Defense Industrial Supply Center (DISC) in Philadelphia, PA, and to establish one Inventory Control Point (ICP) to manage both troop and general support items.

ONE-TIME IMPLEMENTATION COSTS:

Military Construction:

Two projects are scheduled at the NAVICP to facilitate relocation of DPSC personnel and tenants. Due to the disestablishment of DISC in BRAC 95, the construction projects previously planned have been revised to conform with the new ICP and tenant requirements. As a result, we have revised our award dates and programmed amounts for the construction projects:

Location/Project Title	Budgeted Year	Amount ($000)
Planning and Design	1994	4,650

Convert Facilities for DPSC and Tenants	1995	3,389

No conjunctively funded construction projects are required.

Family Housing Construction/Operations:

There are no family housing construction or operations requirements associated with this base closure action.

Operation and Maintenance:

Personnel costs include Voluntary Separation Incentive Pay (VSIP); Voluntary Early Retirement Authority (VERA); Reduction-in-Force (RIF) costs, including Severance Pay and Unemployment Compensation; minimal Permanent Change of Station (PCS) requirements; and lump-sum annual leave and health benefit payments. Remaining labor costs included in the FY 1999 budget are $1.4 million in caretaker costs and $3.2 million in personnel costs. Additional caretaker and personnel for FY 2000-2001 costs are included in the BRAC 95 account..

Nonlabor costs for FY 1999 include base support and environmental cleanup.

Procurement Items:

Beyond the new systems furniture and LAN, which have unit costs under $25,000, there are no items included which would be funded from the Procurement Appropriations.

Revenues from Land Sales:

As a Defense Agency, DLA does not own property. Therefore, no revenue from land sales can be realized.

Environmental:

Environmental requirements at DPSC are currently projected at approximately $21.6 million for FY 1994-1999 BRAC and $2 million for FY 2000-2001. Environmental projects include site sampling, removal of underground storage tanks, and cleanup of PCB and DDT. BRAC funded cleanups began in FY 1994.

Costs not included in this request are for remediation of suspected petroleum contamination underlying DPSC. There are ongoing investigations concerning the origin, composition delineation of and the risk associated with the underground contamination pursuant to a consent order among DPSC, Sun Oil, and the Pennsylvania Department of Environmental Protection of the underground contamination. Cleanup costs are uncertain at this time but preliminary estimates indicate that additional funds may be needed for cleanup.

SAVINGS:

Military Construction:

There were no scheduled projects which generate military construction savings.

Family Housing:

DPSC does not own any family housing units.

Operation and Maintenance:

Savings are generated from the reduction of a total of 253 personnel by FY 1999 (consistent with the COBRA model), reduced base operations support, and real property maintenance.

Military Personnel:

Savings are generated from the elimination of 1 officer billet at DPSC by FY 1999. Even though this is a Military Service billet, as a Defense Working Capital Fund (DWCF) activity, DLA/DPSC costs are reduced by the amount of Military Personnel costs reduced from our DWCF rates.

CLOSURE/REALIGNMENT PACKAGE:

The mission of the Defense Clothing Factory was to manufacture military clothing and textile items, special-sized uniforms, and hand-embroidered flags. The Factory was located on the same base as the Defense Personnel Support Center (DPSC).

Personnel supporting the flag mission were relocated to DPSC in August 1994 and existing commercial sources will be used to procure other clothing factory products.

The Defense Clothing Factory closed 30 September 1994.

ONE-TIME IMPLEMENTATION COSTS:

Military Construction:

There are no projects associated with this closure.

Family Housing Construction/Operations:

There are no family housing requirements associated with this base closure action.

Operations and Maintenance:

Personnel costs included Voluntary Separation Incentive Pay (VSIP); Voluntary Early Retirement Authority (VERA); Severance Pay and Unemployment Compensation; minimal Permanent Change of Station (PCS) requirements; and lump-sum annual leave payments.

ACTIVITY: Defense Clothing Factory (Cont'd)

Revenues from Land Sales:

As a Defense Agency, DLA does not own property. Therefore, no revenue from land sales can be realized.

Environmental:

Environmental requirements in FY 1994 at the Clothing Factory included preparation of National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA) documentation to provide an environmental assessment of the potential effects of the closure. Additional environmental requirements for cleanup of the Clothing Factory are included in DPSC's costs.

SAVINGS:

Military Construction:

There were no projects to generate military construction savings.

Family Housing:

The Defense Clothing Factory had no family housing units.

Operation and Maintenance:

Savings are generated from the reduction of a total of 1,210 personnel by FY 1994, reduced base operations support, and real property maintenance, offset by procurement cost of buying clothing items from commercial sources at lower prices.

Military Personnel:

Savings are generated from the elimination of 2 officer billets at DCF by FY 1994. Even though these are Military Service billets, as a Defense Business Operations Fund (DBOF) activity, DLA/DCF costs are reduced by the amount of Military Personnel costs reduced from our DBOF rates.

CLOSURE/REALIGNMENT PACKAGE:

The mission of the Defense Contract Management Command (DCMC) is to provide contract management services in support of DoD and other government agency buying activities. The five Districts under DCMC were all similar in missions, organizations, personnel skills, and common automated management systems.

The Defense Contract Management District West, El Segundo, California (DCMDW) was redirected by BRAC 95. In lieu of relocating to the Long Beach Naval Shipyard, Long Beach, California as recommended by the BRAC 93 Commission, the BRAC 95 recommendation is to (1) relocate to Government property in the Los Angeles/Long Beach area; (2) obtain space from exchange of land, or purchase an office building, whichever is the most cost-effective for DoD.

DCMDW will relocate by the fourth quarter, FY 1998.

ONE-TIME IMPLEMENTATION COSTS:

Military Construction:

A building purchase and renovation project was found more economical than new construction. Accordingly, the project and associated planning and design costs follow:
